

Key Investor Information

This document provides you with key investor information about this Sub-fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this Sub-fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

BBH Income Fund (the Sub-fund), a Sub-fund of BBH Luxembourg Funds (the Company)

Class: A(EUR) Hedged ISIN: LU2049324689 (the Class).

This Sub-fund is managed by FundRock Management Company S.A. (the Management Company).

Objectives and Investment Policy

The Sub-fund aims to provide investors with maximum total return, with an emphasis on current income, consistent with preservation of capital and prudent investment management.

The Sub-fund will primarily invest in a well-diversified portfolio of fixed and floating rate debt instruments with an investment grade rating, and may invest in non-investment grade securities. These include tradable debt (notes or bonds) and debt for which underlying assets act as protection (asset-backed securities, commercial mortgage-backed securities, and residential mortgage-backed securities) issued by entities including U.S. and non-U.S. companies and financial institutions, the U.S. government, U.S. government agencies, or other issuing entities.

The Sub-fund may also invest in bonds issued or guaranteed by a non-U.S. government (sovereign debt). The Sub-fund may also invest in money market instruments, derivatives and, to the extent permitted in the Prospectus, units of other UCITS or other UCIs such as exchange-traded funds. The Sub-fund manages the duration of the securities it holds and hedges with Treasury Futures and/or interest rate swaps.

The Investment Manager identifies and invests in sectors, industries, securities and durations that offer attractive risk-adjusted returns consistent with the Sub-fund's investment objective. The Sub-fund will primarily invest in securities denominated in U.S. Dollars, some investments may be denominated in other currencies. The sub-fund is actively managed and references the effective duration of the Bloomberg Barclay's US Aggregate Index (the "Benchmark") with respect to the effective duration the sub-fund intends to maintain. The Investment Manager has full discretion over the composition of the sub-fund's portfolio and may take exposure to companies, countries or sectors not included in the Benchmark.

The Investment Manager's investment approach includes consideration of sustainability risks which could enhance its ability to manage risk and to achieve its long-term investment objectives. In managing the Sub-fund, the Investment Manager does not maximize portfolio alignment with sustainability risks as a separate goal in its own right nor does it precisely attribute the impact of environmental, social and governance factors on returns for such Sub-fund. Notwithstanding the above, the investments underlying this financial product do not take into account the EU criteria for environmentally sustainable economic activities which are determined by the Regulation (EU) 2020/852 of the European Parliament and of the Council of 18 June 2020 on the establishment of a framework to facilitate sustainable investment, as amended from time to time. Principal adverse impacts of investment decisions on sustainability factors are not currently considered due to the lack of available and reliable data. The situation will, however, be reviewed going forward.

For full details of the objectives and investment policy of the Sub-fund please refer to the prospectus of the Company (the Prospectus).

Income will automatically be included in the value of your investment.

You may purchase and redeem shares of a Class on each day that banks are open for business in Luxembourg and New York, and the New York Stock Exchange is open for a full day (subject to a possible entry charge and exit charge as described below).

⇐ Lower risk

What do these numbers mean?

They rate how a fund might perform and to what extent your capital is at risk. Generally, higher possible gains also mean higher possible losses. A Category 1 fund means that your investment is subject to only a small risk of losses, but it also means a reduced chance of gains. A Category 7 fund has the highest potential level of gains or losses, and you might not get any of your money back.

Why is this Sub-fund in Category 3?

Funds in category 3 have in past shown moderately low volatility. With a fund of category 3, you have a relatively low risk of losing money but your chance for gains is also moderately low.

More about this rating:

The historical data used to calculate this synthetic indicator may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-fund. Thus, the risk and reward category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and the categorisation of the Sub-fund may shift over time. The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment. The differences between categories are not based on a simple scale, so (for example) 2 does not carry twice the risk as 1, and the gap between 1 and 2 might not be the same as the gap between 2 and 3.

Risks relevant to the Sub-fund not adequately captured by the SRRI:

Credit risk: The Sub-fund is subject to credit risk, which is an issuer's inability to meet principal and interest payments on its obligations. The Sub-fund seeks to minimise such risk by primarily investing in securities of high quality issuers.

Issuer Risk: The value of a security may decline for a number of reasons which directly relate to the issuer, such as management performance, financial leverage and reduced demand for the issuer's goods or services.

Asset backed security (ABS) Risk: Prices of the ABS may be volatile, and will generally fluctuate due to a variety of factors that are inherently difficult to predict, including but not limited to changes in interest rates, prevailing credit spreads, general economic conditions, financial market conditions, domestic and international economic or political events, developments or trends in any particular industry, and the financial condition of the obligors of the ABS. In addition, the ability of the issuer to sell many ABS prior to maturity is subject to certain restrictions set forth in the offering and constitutive documents of the relevant ABS.

High Yield Securities Risk: The Sub-fund invests in high yield securities. High yield securities can be volatile and have a high risk of default. You must be prepared to accept the risks that your investment may suffer significant losses, and that the Sub-fund's returns may fluctuate. The Sub-fund will try to minimize these risks by diversifying its holdings by issuer, industry and credit quality.

Counterparty risk: The Sub-fund will enter into various financial contracts (derivatives) with another party. There is a risk that the other party will become insolvent or fail to make its payments which may result in the Sub-fund and your investment suffering a loss. Additionally, credit default swaps could result in losses if the Sub-fund does not correctly evaluate the creditworthiness of the company on which the credit default swap is based, or the counterparty with whom it is dealing with.

Liquidity Risk: Liquidity risk exists when a particular instrument is difficult to purchase or sell. If a transaction is particularly large or if the relevant market is illiquid (as is the case with many restricted securities), it may not be possible to initiate a transaction or liquidate a position at an advantageous time or price.

Investors should also read Risk Descriptions in the Prospectus for a full description of each of the Sub-fund's risks.
